

Footwear 101

What you put on your feet during the winter months can be a lifesaver. Although no shoe type, brand or manufacturer can guarantee the total elimination of slip and falls, proper footwear is still a key element in reducing these exposures.

While this document will provide insights on several footwear offerings to prevent slip and falls — both indoors and out — United Heartland does not endorse vendors or suppliers of slip-resistant footwear. Also keep in mind this list is not all-inclusive; it's simply meant to provide guidance on this important topic.
